CRASH DATA RETRIEVAL OPERATORS & ANALYSIS COURSE

Presented by Brad Muir and Jon Northrup

February 21– 25, 2022

York Regional Police Association Facility,

Aurora, Ontario, Canada

CATAIR (Ontario Region) announces the Crash Data Retrieval Operators and Analysis Course. This course will be hosted at the York Regional Police Association facility located at 63 Eric T. Smith Way, Aurora, and presented by Brad Muir and Jon Northrup of Crash Data Specialists LLC.

This course introduces the Bosch Crash Data Retrieval System and methods for imaging Event Data Recorder information from various electronic modules within a vehicle. Data interpretation and limitations for the various automotive manufacturers will be discussed. The participant will be able to provide a situationally appropriate data analysis at the conclusion of the course.

Topics will include:

- CDR system components and terminology
- Methods for accessing data and troubleshooting connectivity
- Hands-on practical training
- Generating and analyzing data reports
- Data interpretation; including the significance of Delta-V, closing speed, and Principle Direction of Force
- Data accuracy and reliability, and more...

Those wishing to only take the CDR Operator's portion of the course will need to register for the first day (see registration).
